

Daffy, Ducky, Dicken And Quackers Come To St. Faith's Service

Many people will be aware that there is currently major disruption on the roads around Walsworth whilst bridge strengthening work is being done. This has necessitated a temporary diversion of the River Hiz. In spite of this invasion of their habitat I understand that one mother duck has been seen in the area with no less than 11 chicks.

So it would perhaps have been reasonable to suppose that on the morning of the All Age Service in April, four of these fluffy creatures had sought sanctuary in St. Faith's church away from the messy engineering works! The ducklings were certainly the centre of attention that morning but during the service which followed the activities Charmaine informed us they were named Daffy, Ducky, Dicken and Quackers (Not sure which one is posing for the picture!) and they had been brought to church by the Beadle family from Shillington.

The chicks housed comfortably in a cardboard box containing all creature comforts could be heard cheeping loudly throughout the Service. A welcome temporary addition to our church family and a joyful reminder of the coming of Easter.
